No to slavery, no to NATO in Libya!

We believe that all people are created equal — yet around the world today our brothers and sisters are in chains. Our souls cry out in anger and pain when we see slave markets reborn in Libya in the 21st century. How has humanity arrived at this shameful and humiliating place?

So why has chattel slavery re-emerged in Libya? One does not need a long memory to recall that in 2011, NATO waged a war of regime change, using a new model, which has since transported to wreak havoc in Syria.

Today’s Libyan ‘Government of National Accord’ is the poisoned fruit of that genocidal NATO campaign. This rag-tag coalition of western puppets spends its time squabbling over the spoils of Libya’s faltering economy, spilling into frequent armed conflict, while the country they have betrayed lies about them in ruins. The GNA is an imposed comprador government not representative of, nor responsible to, the Libyan people.

As such, NATO bears direct responsibility for the composition and actions of its junior partners, including its ongoing campaigns of murder and rape in Libya to impose a backward social code, its terrorist outrages committed in Libya and elsewhere (such as the Manchester Bombing in May 2017), its involvement in trafficking displaced migrants who are drowned in their thousands trying to cross the Mediterranean to escape poverty in sub-Saharan Africa – and, as an off-shoot of this, actual slave trading.

Join us on Saturday 9 December, 12 noon, at Belgrave square, marching to the Libyan embassy, to demonstrate against the continuing plunder of Libya and the exploitation of African people by NATO states.
